Most direct through Line for the East.

BALTIMORE & OHIO

RAILROAD!

THIS GREAT WORK OF INTERnal improvement (379 miles from Wheeling to Baltimore, and 403 to Washington,) was opened to the Ohio river in January, 1853, and has now been fully tested and approved, both as a freight and passenger route. This road is located in a romantic country, is solidly constructed, fully equipped, and carefully managed, and is thus rendered as attractive as well as a safe line for travellers. The late completion of the Central Ohio Road, from Columbus to the Ohio river, near Wheeling, adds greatly to the importance of this route, offering, as it does, the most thorough Railroad connection with the entire West.

☞ THROUGH TICKETS BETWEEN LOUISVILLE AND THE NATIONAL METROPOLIS are sold by this road, which runs direct to Washington without the delay of passing through Baltimore. It is also the only line by which baggage can be checked to Washington from the West. At Baltimore the road makes a direct connection with the Railroad to Philadelphia and New York, &c.

Passengers going East from Louisville, may proceed by Railroad to Cincinnati, and there take the Railroad to connect with this line, or may leave Louisville by the Jeffersonville Railroad direct.

The Mail Steamers leave Louisville daily for Cincinnati, where they arrive so as to connect with the cars of the Little Miami Railroad at A. M. (or 5 P. M.,) for Columbus, connecting there with Central Ohio Railroad, through Newark and Zanesville to Belleair, on the Ohio, where they connect with the road at 4 miles below Wheeling. At this place the connection with the B. and O. Railroad is made direct. By express train of this route, the time from Cincinnati to Baltimore is less than 22 hours, and to Washington but 28 hours.

THROUGH TICKETS are sold as follows: By mail steamers to Cincinnati, from Louisville to Washington, $18; to Baltimore, $17; to Philadelphia, $18; and to New York, $20 50. To be had of F. CARTER, Ticket Agent, at Southeast corner of Third and Water streets, Louisville.

☞ Be sure to ask for Tickets by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad route.

THROUGH TICKETS may also be had at the office of the Jeffersonville Railroad, for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad route, by way of the Jeffersonville, Ohio, and Mississippi, Little Miami, and Central Ohio Railroad, at the following rates: From Louisville to Washington, $18 50; to Baltimore, $17 50; to Philadelphia, $18 50; to New York, $21.

At WHEELING or Benwood the passenger takes the superior cars of the B. and O. Railroad, which leave daily—at 5 P. M., and 11:45 P. M., for Baltimore, Washington, (or Philadelphia,) by close connection, arriving there in 16 or 17 hours, including stoppages. For safety, speed, regularity, beauty of the country, and general comfort, this road is second to none in the Union.

NIGHT FLIGHTS.—With the largest equipment of any Railroad in the United States, the company is prepared to do an immense business in the transportation of freights, which are carried with care and dispatch, and at rates as low as those of any other first class line.—The road makes immediate connection at the wharves and in the streets of Baltimore, with the Railroad to Philadelphia and New York, steamers of the Union and Baltimore Steamship Company's lines, by canal and sea, to New York and Boston, steamers to Norfolk, Charleston, Savannah, &c.

For further particulars, as for freight tariff, copies of which may be had of any of the Forwarding Houses in the West.

fe19 Master of Transportation, Baltimore.

MEDICAL.

Hampton's Tincture at Home.

HERE IS ANOTHER CASE OF an astonishing cure effected in Louisville by the use of Hampton's Tincture and Ointment. The case is so well known to many citizens, that the preservation of the life and health of the gentleman named is considered a marvel and a wonder. Hear his own statement:

My friends express their astonishment at meeting me in the streets of Louisville, Jeffersonville, or New Albany, where my business calls me daily, knowing that I had suffered a thousand deaths from a complication of diseases of over twelve years' standing—although I had the best medical aid, who had held several consultations over me, uniformly advising me that there were no possible hopes for me, I must prepare to die. I had not strength enough to bear one dose of medicine. At this stage of disease, numbers of my friends urged upon me to try Hampton's Tincture and Ointment. I concluded to do so, but without faith. I soon discovered an improvement, which, with the use of the medicine, continued until my health was entirely restored. I felt a little strength with which to do business, and ventured a little too far—fell into a deep cistern, bruising my body very much, and fracturing the bones of my legs. Again I commenced the use of the Tincture and Ointment, and in a few weeks found myself restored, free from bruises and fractured bones.

After experiencing the cures made on myself, for which I find no equal but in that solitary instance of Job of old—being, like him, covered from head to foot with grievous boils and running sores—it would be the height of vanity in me to pretend to give more than a bare glimmer of what I consider their value to an afflicted world; nor can I believe that the most ingenious painter of language, in his loftiest flights of imagination, could do justice to their merits and healing and restorative powers. They saved my life! I therefore feel bound, in justice to the medicine, in justice to myself, and in justice to an afflicted world, to make this statement and certificate. JAMES B. HUGHES,

WIG MANUFACTORY,

NO. 85 FOURTH STREET, BET. Main and Market, the oldest stand in Louisville. Mrs. NICHOLAS invites the attention of customers and others to her newly invented Ventilating Diamond Wigs.

These Wigs were invented by Richard Beck, of London, and patented by one of the gentlemen in my establishment, who took the highest premium for the best Wig on exhibition at the Industrial Exhibition, London, in 1851. They are warranted not to shrink; (those who have worn Wigs know the greatest comfort in a Wig is in one that will not shrink AT ALL;) besides, they are so close a resemblance to nature as to defy detection—and, to enable gentlemen to see the effect for themselves, a specimen is kept on hand for inspection, any of which, if approved of, saves the purchaser both time and trouble, as these elegant specimens of Wigs cannot be found elsewhere. Also, a splendid assortment of Ladies' Wigs and Half Wigs, Braids and Curls, always on hand, and made to order on the shortest notice. Brushes, Perfumery, Gloves, and a general assortment of Fancy Goods, of the very latest importations.

P. S.—Ladies will please remember that they can have their hair dressed at their own residences.

☞ We certainly think, that if a General Government cannot interfere to correct such a terrible condition of things, the people of the United States should not pay their money to maintain a General Government.—Louisville Journal.

If the authorities of Louisville could not prevent a desecration of the right of suffrage in this city with forty or fifty paid Policemen, any number of Magistrates, Constables, Sheriffs, etc., paid to keep the peace, and not only one Mayor, but two, how is the President to protect the right of suffrage in Kansas? What can he, at Washington, do, with thousands of resolute men, at a distance of thousands of miles? What could the whole military force of the United States do, scattered over a frontier, and at a score of voting places, hundreds of miles distant?

Let the editor of the Journal look at home. What was done in Kansas was done here, right under the editor's own nose. He professes to believe only a tenth of it, but he believes enough to meet the case. We have a Police hired at great expense to protect the peace of the city. They are paid by high taxes these hard times, and yet our citizens can't be protected in their dearest rights. They are, by violence, prevented from choosing their own civil officers. The government they have provided for their protection, and for which they pay, has failed to protect them. Should they continue to pay for such a government?

We should like to know the editor's opinion about paying our Police any longer. He demands of the Federal Government the performance of what is next to impossible, or he advises no supplies. Will he pay our City Government after its non-performance of what is practicable? i

Lawless men did no worse in Kansas than they did here and in Cincinnati; and if the city authorities could not prevent such deeds in their own midst, under their own eyes, surely the President cannot be expected to prevent similar outrages on our frontier.

We certainly have as much right to vote peaceably here as the people of Kansas have—and what means this furious zeal against Kansas outrages, and this tameness about the same sort of crimes at home?

☞ And most certainly the mass of the members of the American order, embodying, beyond all question, a large majority of the native-born population of our city, have as little toleration for outrages on the elective franchise as any party or class that exists among us. It were a foul libel on the character of our native-born citizens to assert the contrary.—Louisville Journal.

Well, if this be true, how happens it that so large a number of bullies could take the polls, and systematically keep them, not once but twice; and that this is done in behalf of a party that is organized secretly, and of course knows its members and its own policy? If the party were sufficiently opposed to such deeds as to be determined to prevent them, they might easily accomplish it. An outbreak might happen in spite of any party, but taking possession of the polls, not only in one ward, but in two, not temporarily, but for a whole day, cannot be done without preconcert and understanding.

Professions will not do. Any party can prevent its members from perpetrating such acts, if it is resolved to do it. Lawless men do n't act in this manner in the face of day, without they have, or think they have, a protecting power to screen them from the punishment due to such crimes.

Something more than professions are needed in a subject of this sort. Will the editor and his party see that they do not occur again—that this city shall not be disgraced again by such scenes as occurred on last Saturday? Will he pledge himself and his party, that next August will not witness a repetition of these scenes?

The Know-Nothing lodges are very energetic in what they desire to accomplish. If they abhor such deeds, as they say, what action will they take to protect the purity of the ballot-box here in Louisville? What cannot be punished may be easily prevented. Let 's have some assurance on this subject.

☞ The Know-Nothings of New York have been in session at Syracuse for some days, going through the delicate operation of nationalizing themselves — delicate operation, the Louisville Journal says it is, and outsiders may not know the modus operandi. Sam's secrets, however, are becoming but vulgar things, after all. They leak out, and bear the ear-marks of other humbugs. We shall soon know what Sam has done. The Abolitionists are looking on, slightly apprehensive that Sam may set up for himself after all they have done for him. They see that the Silver Greys and Webster men are inclined to cheat the South, if possible, by some pretext, and they don't like it. They fear that they may get cheated some themselves. The operation of converting black into a white appearance by painting and daubing is rather delicate, and a mistake may be fatal. They have the power to crush out the traitors to freedom, as they call these fellows, and they will to do it.

They fear only one party North, and that is the old Democratic party. With Sam's aid they have temporarily defeated this national party; and the only hope in the future is in the combination of the two organizations. When they look forward to the spoils, and feel the cherished desire of ruling America, the separation will be delicate and difficult, if not impossible.

☞ Many of the more respectable members of the Know-Nothing organization of this city, smarting under a sense of shame, in consequence of the atrocious conduct of the ruffians who disgraced this community by their outrageous conduct, at the recent election, are endeavoring to solace themselves with the idea that no part of the guilt rests on them. We think that will not be the judgment of a single impartial mind in reference to the matter.

They have incorporated into their order elements which have at all times deeply inflamed the passions of the people—a war of races and religions sects. Indeed, these are the chief, if not the only, elements of coherence in their party. All history and experience prove that deeds of violence and blood have invariably resulted from such causes, and the most superficial consideration could not have failed to warn every man of sense of the danger of so perilous an experiment as the formation of a political association on such a basis. But, however inconsiderately they may have embarked in it, the scandalous deeds perpetrated here and elsewhere have added another proof of the dangerous tendency of such organizations, and no man can excuse himself for being associated with it. He will be justly held responsible for all the crimes that may be committed in its name.

Moreover, it may be very pertinently asked if it is at all probable that the infamous miscreants, who perpetrated their deeds of blood and outrage in this city, on Saturday last, were impelled to this by any interest they felt in the political bearing of the issue of nativism or religious faith. We think there is no man of sense who will believe it. Then what other influence brought together these lawless violators of the peace of our city from all points of the compass to reinforce the bullies who already abounded in our midst? Is it to be supposed that they felt so strong a patriotic impulse as to come uninvited and at their own cost. This is a consideration that, we think, places the order in no enviable condition.

☞ An office-holding chap being asked how to contrived to hold office under successive administrations, replied "that administrations must be darned smart that could change oftener than he could."

☞ Why is the editor of the Louisville Journal concerned so much about mob law in Kansas and Missouri, whilst he can hardly be forced to a notice of mob law at elections here in Louisville? The mobites in Missouri are not as mean as those in Louisville. They did n't whip a woman, as the mob did here. On the contrary, they spared a man, partly, at least, because his wife was present.

Letter from New Orleans.

Summer Coming—Dull Times Ditto—Grand Balloon Excursion—Strike among the Printers.

NEW ORLEANS, May 5, '55.

EDS. DEMOCRAT: The unequalled drought we have had this spring, has at last had an interruption. We had a shower or two of rain, a day or two since, which washed the dust from the vegetation on which it had settled so blightingly, and now everything looks sweet and smiling, the the squares wearing their brightest green, and the gardens emitting their freshest odors. Still the weather is very warm; and soda fountains, awnings, fans, and summer linen are in full reign.

Business is dull—times very hard—provisions commanding famine prices at retail—and the levee, the great thermometer of our prosperity, begins to look comparatively bare.

The theatres are all closed except the Orleans, which will close in a week or so—and the hotels have plenty of room to spare, the "city" having failed a few days since, and being now in the Sheriff's possession. The health of the city, so far, is excellent—but the summer promises to be an unusually dull one.

Now I am going to tell you something I know you will scarcely believe, or any of my friends among your readers who know me; but it is a fact. Last Sunday I went up in a balloon, with Eugeno Godard, the famous French æronaut, who has been making ascensions here for several months past. Stimulated by the example of numerous friends, who had been with him up to Cloudland, and being desirous of a bird's-eye view of natnre, anyhow, I concluded to try it, having an invitation.

At ten minutes past six, we—that is, Godard, three others, one of whom was Mr. Starr Davis, well-known in Louisville, and myself, five in all—ascended from the yard of the tobacco warehouse, at the corner of Poydras and Baronne streets. [The balloon, I should observe, is a mammoth affair, holding 45,000 cubic feet of gas, and beautifully painted all over with allegorical pictures, and names of principal cities of Godard's aerial triumphs with the name "America," in largo letters. The party, ballast, provisions, and all, weighed about 1,500 pounds.] In going up, I felt a slight degree of nervousness, which left me in about ten minutes, when we had reached a height of ten thousand feet. I cannot pretend to give you all the incidents and excitements of the trip, which was the best Godard has made in America. We passed over the city in a northwest direction—over the swamp, and Lake Pontchartrain, the northern shore of which we reached at sundown, being able to see both shores of the lake, and the Rigolets all the time—and continued our journey "by the light of the moon," which was nearly full, over swamps, piney-woods, lakes, bayous, plantations and towns—the balloon undulating between attitudes of two thousand and fonrteen thousand feet.

We crossed the parishes of St. John the Baptist, Livingston, and St. Helena, in Louisiana, and the countries of Amite, Franklin, and Jefferson, in Mississippi, and landed in Claiborne county, in a cotton-field fifteen miles back of Port Gibson, at 1 o'clock in the morning. We plainly distinguished the farms, houses, and other objects, and until 9 o'clock, could hear the shouts and talk of the astonished country people, and the barking of their dogs. There were fleecy summer clouds floating along above us. Several times we entered the clouds, remaining in them till our clothes were quite damp, out of all view of the earth; and once we went 16,000 feet, or nearly three miles high, to where the air was chilly, and so rare that our blood hummed in our ears. This was far above the clouds, and the moonlight was so brilliant from the reflection of the vapor beneath, that I was able easily to read the smallest newspaper print. I shall not undertake to depict the grandeur of this scene, or the unalloyed pleasure I derived from the whole sublime journey. At an elevation of ten thousand feet over Lake Pontchartrain, we partook of a delicious supper—the clouds hovering close about us, and the roar of the white-capped waves beneath us, coming up with a solemn and thrilling effect. The great marvel of the journey was the diminished yet distinct appearance of everything, and the distinctness with which we could see the frogs, katydids, and night-birds, at ever so great a heighth.

Coming down in the field before mentioned, to find out where we were, the balloon refused to take us all up again; so three of us had to get out Davis, Mandnit, (the circus-performer, who went up beneath us in a swing,) and myself. Godard with his other passengers went on.

A negro who saw us land came running to us, and gave us all the information we desired. We were just three hundred and forty miles from New Orleans, by land and river travel; though only a hundred and sixty by the route we came. We had our own fun, (though it wasn't so very funny at the time,) with the planters thereabouts, who wouldn't let us have carriage or horses to go to Port Gibson, for love or money, nor would they accommodate us with rest till morning, though we were a well-dressed, decent-looking trio, and they proverbial for their hospitality. It was very plain, that they took us for lunatics or robbers, for we had no balloon or other evidence to back our assertion that we had left New Orleans on a few hours previously. Davis, at last, managed to get a seat in a buggy with an old negro, and Mandnit and I had to foot it till daylight, when we jumped into a brick wagon which overtook us, and jolted along in it till we met a barouche, which Davis, on reaching Port Gibson, had sent ont after us. Of course, as Dan Rice would say, we were "pum somekins" in Port Gibson and Grand Gulf, and on the steamer coming down the river.

All three of us had to swear to each other's assertions, in order to secure credulity, and Mandnit would clinch the thing occasionally by showing his spangles, beneath his outer dress, and knock skepticism cold by a somerset or two. Godard and his companion went on about thirty miles further, and landed near Cayuga, where the natives had never heard of a balloon, or seen a Frenchman; but as they had the balloon with them to show for their story, they secured politeness and attention. They were furnished a wagon, and went to Vicksburg, about twenty miles distant, where they took steamer for the city. Godard expects to visit the Western cities soon, and I recommend him to you as a "brick"—a man who manages his balloon as easily as you would a kitten in your lap. If he should offer to take you aloft, you will miss a most splendid thing if you back out.

The only thing worth particular attention is, that the printers in the offices of the "Associated Press"—the Delta, True Delta, Crescent, Bulletin, Bee, and Conrier—are on a strike, owing to the importation of a crowd of forty "rats," which arrived yesterday on the steamship Cahawba from New York. The striking printers are backed by a full treasury, and a good share of public sympathy, while tho publishers, though their papers look rather bad this morning, are confident of succeeding in their object, viz.: reducing wages twenty per cent; the imported hands, which were divided out among the six offices, being at work at the reduction. If the striking printers—the strike being universal—should stick together, they will succeed—for the forty "rats" are not half enongh to man the papers on which they are now at work. The proprietors have squads of police stationed near their offices, to keep the combative portion of the strikers in check. When the "rats" went to work, they were followed by crowds of boys, whooping and yelling, and imitating cats, after them. Altogether there is much excitement in the city about it, and I am unable to hazard a guess as to which side will conquer.

As ever, G.

BIRDS OF A FEATHER.—The Sir Francis Drake steamer sailed last week from Jersey with at least eighty emigrants for the Salt Lake! Never, perhaps, did drake swim in company with so many geese!

[From the Warsaw (Mo.) Democrat, May 3d.]

The Gold Mines on the Arkansas River —Their Locality, &c.

It is a well authenticated fact that a rich mine of gold has been discovered on a stream called the Red Fork of the Arkansas river, at the foot of the Ouachita mountains. Considerable excitement prevails in Southwest Missouri and Northwest Arkansas, and hundreds are already taking up the line of march for the new mines. We wish them success.

Having learned that great excitement was prevailing in Greene county, and the Southwest on the subject of the late discoveries of gold, we wrote a letter to A. F. Ingram, Esq., at Springfield, Mo., propounding various questions in relation to the mines—who discovered them, their locality, &c., &c., to which we received the following reply from that gentleman:

SPRINGFIELD, Greene county, Mo., April 28th, 1855.

MARK L. MEANS, Esq.: Yours of the 27th inst., propounding various interrogatories in relation to the "Gold Fever" here, and the cause of the excitement, etc., is just received.

Question 1st—"Who discovered the mines, and when?"

Answer—A company of seven men from Newton county, Mo., went out on a prospecting expedition last fall, and returned in the forepart of the winter, I believe, bringing specimens of gold which have been exhibited in Neosho, Mt. Vernon; and, we believe, some of our citizens who visited Neosho about two weeks ago, for the purpose of obtaining reliable information of the adventures in person, brought a specimen of the metal to this place. Two of the seven got off from the others in "prospecting," and returned home only a few days ago, one of them bringing home $2,000, and the other $3,000, which they "panned" out in a very short time, without anything to dig with.

The mines are said to be at or near the foot of the Ouachita (Wash-i-ta) mountains, on a stream called the Red Fork of the Arkansas River—about one hundred and fifty miles south of the road leading from our Western frontiers to Santa Fe.

Report says that the returned adventurers endeavored to keep the matter dark; but it leaked out. They, and all their relations, have, it is said, sold out and are fixing to return. The excitement at this place is as great (and it has only been up one week to-day,) as ever was the California, if not greater—some twenty or thirty persons will leave this county to-morrow. The excitement in the counties west of this is much greater than here.

The point fixed on for rendezvous is at some point on the Verdigris river, in the Chorokee Nation, where it is thought the number of adventurers will amount to 2,000 or 3,000. A gentleman just from Arkansas says the excitement is up in that State, or the north-west counties of it. I have been informed by persons who have resided at or near Fort Smith, Ark., that particles of gold have been frequently discovered in the bed of the Arkansas river, which has evidently been washed down from above.

Having been in the country the greater portion of the time for the past two weeks, I am not as well posted up as I, under other circumstances, might be. Very respectfully, your obedient servant.

A. F. INGRAM.

THE KILLING OF CAPTAIN G. K. LEWIS.—The Gonzales (Texas) Inquirer, publishes the following letter, addressed to the proprietors of that paper, by Dr. Parrington, who killed Captain Lewis at Corpus Christi. Yarrington formerly resided at Gonzales:

INDIANAPOLIS, April 17th, 1855.

DEAR SIR:—I drop you a line hastily, to inform you that I had the misfortune to kill Captain G. K. Lewis, at Corpus Christi, on the 14th inst. The reason was, he seduced Mrs. Yarrington from me and my children, and then added insult to injury by continually coming to my house, and, also, trying to steal my children from me, and trying to force from my possession certain lotters, which intercepted, addressed to my wife.

I have written the truth, so help me God.

Truly, your obedient servant,

J. T. YARRINGTON.

P. S.—I am in charge of the Sheriff, Mr. Graham; we are bound to Galvesten. I am free of all bonds.

THE MOB MASS MEETING AT WESTON, Mo.—The Platte (Mo.) Argus of the 1st inst., contains the following resolutions of a mass meeting held at Weston:

Resolved, 1. That self-defence requires the expulsion of every person bringing reproach upon negro slavery.

2. That robbers and traitors have no right to the protection of the law.

3. Ratifies the proceedings of the Parkville riots.

4. Approves the resolutions in regard to the Methodist preachers, adding thereto all mistakers, whose preaching is prejudicial to slavery.

5. That no arguments will be used against abolition papers, but the Missouri river, the bonfire and the hemp rope.

6. They pledge themselves to go to Kansas, and help expel those who are corrupting slaves.

7. Calls for a grand mass meeting at Parkville on the 5th inst.

A VISIT TO THE BATTLE-FIELDS.—A correspondent of the New Orleans Picayune, at Brownsville, writes:

"I have just returned from the battle grounds of Palo Alto and Resaca de la Palma; but scarcely a vestige remains to denote these fields which redounded so much to the gallantry of our regular army. On the former field, a cannon ball is occasionally picked up, which is the only indication that it was ever used except for the peaceful purpose of grazing the larger herds which at present roam over it. At the Resaca de la Palma the faint outlines of the redoubt which the Mexicans occupied on the west bank of the Resaca are still visible, but so overgrown with brush and undergrowth they can scarcely be followed. One or two trees still show marks of the strife, and a few shreds of old shoes, and an occasional battered canteen, are also to be found in the chapparel; but there is naught else to show that here was the scene of one of the most closely contested fights of the war, where bayonets were often crossed, and where hand to hand fights were frequent, as tho scattered combatants met beneath the shade of the sweet-scented mimosa or amidst the tangled brushwood."

LOST COMPLETELY.—We gave an account, not long ago, of the efforts of one of our humane justices to save a beautiful girl who was convicted as a vagrant, some months since, under the assumed name of Emma Snow. He wrote to her father and received in reply so strong an appeal to rescue the girl from utter ruin, that the trial was made. She was sent to the workhouse, and in the meantime was visited by the justice, at the request of her father, and repeated promises obtained that she would certainly reform. Her penitential appearance, her tears, and the desire she evinced of once more returning to her home, induced her friend to believe he had accomplished something.

She was to call at his office at the expiration of the period for which she was committed, and receive some money for the proper replenishment of her wardrobe. She did so, and stated to the justice that she had found a respectable family who were willing to take her in, and to whom she was to offer her services as dress-maker for a short period till she got ready to go home. Furnished with a part of the means sent by her parent, she left the office, and a policeman was directed to follow her.

The girl took the shortest ronte to one of the foulest sinks of iniquity in the city, and in ten minutes was amid a crowd of the most abandoned of her sex. In less than three days after she was again arrested for swearing and disorderly conduct in the highway, and once more committed—her conduct and conversation proved her to be a perfect and complete moral wreck. She is not yet 17 years old, and will probably never see her home again. The result of this last effort to save the girl will be communicated to her father, and his money returned to him.—Buffalo Commercial.

Mr. Silas Marshall, of this county, while engaged in clearing a piece of ground, was instantly killed on last Friday by the falling of a tree. LOUISVILLE, Feb. 26, 1855.

DR. R. VAUGHAN—Dear Sir: Last September I was taken with a severe attack of Chills and Fever, used quinine pills and other remedies for this disease without effect, when I happened to meet with you, and was advised to try DR. BLACKWELL'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF SARSAPARILLA AND VERSICOLA. I obtained one bottle, and used it with the very happiest effects. It acted upon my debilitated stomach and liver with as much efficacy as calomel, and the use of that one bottle restored my liver to a healthy action, cured the Chills, and I can assure you I have never had a return since or enjoyed better health in my life. R. D. CONDON.

☞ WEAK, nervous, depressed in spirits, and a prey to innumerable mental as well as physical evils, the victim to dyspepsia is indeed an object of commiseration. Yet it is absurd for him to despair. We care not how low, weak, nervous, and irritable he may be, the cordial properties of Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia, are stronger than the many-headed monster which is preying upon his body and mind, and if he chooses to try them, we will insure a speedy cure. See advertisement. my7 deod&w3

To the Public.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Feb. 8th, 1855.

MR. SOLOMONS—Dear Sir: I called upon you at your office, on Fourth street, in December last, and told you that I had purchased several pair of Spectacles at different stores, but had never obtained any that did not cause great pain and fatigue to the eyes, but am happy to state that the pair I purchased of you suit beyond my expectations, by day and candle light. I have found my sight improve so much since I have used them, that I cannot sit down and read small print without them. Wishing you every sucess your great enterprise deserves, I remain, yours truly, S. HILLMAN.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Feb. 24, 1855.

MR. G. SOLOMONS—Dear Sir: Having satisfactorily tried a pair of Spectacles purchased of you, and finding them far superior to any I have ever used, in that they rest and strengthen the eye, whilst all others have pained, wearied, and weakened my sight, I cordially recommend them to the use of all who stand in need of them.

Respectfully yours, S. J. EVANS,
On Broadway.

JEFFERSON CO., Dec. 2, 1854.

I have used Mr. SOLOMONS' Eye Glass for a very brief period, with decided advantage, and have no hesitation in stating that a defective vision of long standing has been relieved, and the organs seem to be acquiring vigor and tone. I therefore cheerfully bear testimony to their excellency and accuracy, as also to Mr. Solomons' skill as a practical Optician, and the wonderful facility with which he adapts his Glasses to the various peculiarities of vision. Yonrs truly, SAM'L B. SMITH.

A few Words for your own Good.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: IT is doubtless nothing new to you in mentioning the hard times which we have had for the last eight or ten months; and it is probable they will continue for some time to come. We all know how hard it is for many of us to make anything above what is required for our daily living—to support our loved parents, or parents their children. How often in these hard times does it occur that families are separated—the younger portion emigrating to distant lands in quest of fortune, to gladden the hearts of the cold fold at home," and how fearful the danger that, in this laudable effort, many will become sick and die among strangers in a distant land, far from home and friends! How important, then, is it that every family, parent, son, brother, and sister, should secure a faithful, and life-like likeness of those to whom we are related by all those dearities of nature. But "hard times" is the cry. Friends, ROESBERG is determined that this excuse shall avail you no longer, and for that purpose will take pictures of yourself and friends at the following reduced prices, and he stipulates that they shall be equal to the best. So read and satisfy yourself, and give him a call at the well-known Mammoth Daguerreian Gallery, No. 531 Main street.

☞ ROESBERG now sells a Papier Mache case, including the Daguerreotype, that formerly cost $3 and $3 50, at $2 and $2 50, at the Mammoth Gallery.

☞ ROESBERG now gives a quarter-size picture, with fine case, which formerly cost $4 50 and $5, for $3 and $3 50, at the Mammoth Gallery.

☞ ROESBERG has on hand and is receiving every day some very fine Jenny Lind, Sunday, and Union ornamented cases, which he will sell, including the Daguerreotype, at a great reduction on the former cost, at the Mammoth Gallery.

☞ ROESBERG has some splendid pearl cases, which he furnishes with the Daguerreotype at a very small profit, at the Mammoth Gallery.

☞ ROESBERG now sells a half-size case, with the picture, that has always cost from $5 to $6, for $3 and $4, at the Mammoth Gallery.

☞ ROESBERG also sells a half-size Papier Mache case, including the likeness, for $3 and $4, which never sold for less than $10 or $12, at the Mammoth Gallery.

☞ ROESBERG takes over all badly taken Daguerreotypes by other artists at 50 cents, and if not bettered no charge will be made for the trouble, at the Mammoth Gallery.

☞ ROESBERG takes no likenesses of little children under three years of age for less than $1, on account of the difficulty in getting them to sit still for a Daguerreotype, at the Mammoth Gallery.

☞ ROESBERG, remember, has the largest sky-light and larger room than any other Daguerreotypist in the city, at the Mammoth Gallery.

ROESBERG takes great delight in waiting on all those who may honor him with a call, at the well-known Mammoth Daguerreian Gallery, No. 531 Main street, between Second and Third, immediately opposite the Bank of Kentucky. mr8 m&e

☞ Yesterday was another fine growing day.

CAMPBELL MINSTRELS.—These celebrated minstrels did not arrive last night, and the concert did not of course come off as advertised.

☞ Mr. F. A. Crump, Fourth street, has on hand their May number of the Knickerbocker, the favorite of all who know anything about it.

☞ The Paris (Ky.) Citizen of the 11th inst., states that James M. Arnold, Esq., was appointed Deputy Sheriff on Monday last.

☞ There will be a meeting of the Kentucky Horticultural Society at the Merchants' Exchange this morning, at 10 o'clock.

☞ The Rev. Dr. Plummer will preach in the Second Presbyterian Church to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock, and Rev. Dr. Musgrave in the evening at 8 o'clock.

☞ Two little children who were lost, and found upon the street, were kindly cared for, and taken home by Mr. Gilliss of the Sixth ward, last evening.

☞ There will be no detention on the Jeffersonville railroad to-day on account of the accident which occurred on Thursday. The track is clear, and the train will proceed on as usual.

☞ In the case of Glover, Mather & Co., against the post-office department, depositions are being made, daily, before James I. Dozier, to be read in the case upon its final action before Congress.

☞ Mr. J. F. Griffin, on the south-west corner of Market and First streets, keeps a full supply of gentlemen's clothing and furnishing goods. His stock embraces a full variety of all articles in his line of trade.

THE LIQUOR LAW SEEN THROUGH A SPIRITUAL MEDIUM.—The N. Y. Herald says that ex-Judge Edmonds has nearly ready for publication a legal revelation in favor of temperance. He has discovered that Messrs. Hall and Dillon are not proper mediums.

☞ Dr. John Jackson—a gentleman of distinguished ability and an able debater, made a speech at Lebanon, Ky., on Monday, in which he took occasion to stir up the new fangled party. A few more such speeches in the field, and Know-Nothingism is dead.

☞ Mr. George Thompson, for six or seven years foreman in the Democrat office, but now a staunch farmer near Waidsboro', Ky., is in our city. He is a first-rate Democrat, and we hereby announce him an agent for the Democrat in that section of Kentucky.

DEMOCRATIC VICTORIES—KNOW-NOTHING DEFEAT.—In Cambridge, Ind., at the late municipal election, the Democrats beat the oath-bound conspirators fifty-four votes. Heretofore the city has been largely Whig. In Columbus, Ind., also, the Democratic ticket succeeded, the Know-Nothings being completely driven from the field.

☞ The Washington Star of Monday states that the Government has directed a civil suit to be commenced in New York against T. Butler King, late Collector of the Customs at San Francisco, Cal., for a balance of about $10,000 claimed by the accounting officers of the Treasury to be due the United States from Mr. King.

☞ Mrs. Betsey Leonard, widow of the late Capt. John Leonard, of Keene, N. H., is just 100 years old, and is expected to take a trip to Boston next week to visit some friends. Her husband was one of "minute men," and fought at Bunker Hill. Mrs. Leonard was married to her late husband in 1775.

☞ For the benefit of our lady readers, we publish upon our first page, this morning, two beautiful little stories—"A Wife's Devotion," and "The Contented Man." Almost every number of the Democrat will contain something for them.

We are determined to render our paper a welcome visitor to every fireside.

MUSICAL CRITICISM.—The editor of the "Battle Axe of Freedom and the Tommahawk of Liberty," writing from Philadelphia after hearing Miss Louisa Pyne sing the song of The Skylark, says:—"Her voice is delicious, pure as the moonlight, and as tender as a three shilling shirt." What delicate organs of hearing he must have, and what beautiful comparisons he makes—there's aeritic for you.

CHARGE OF THE MUD BRIGADE.—We noticed the Inspector of the Western District on Fourth street yesterday, with his "Street Brigade,"

With the hoe—with the spade
With the spade thundered;
See what a scrape they made.
Less than one hundred.

☞ Farmers of Jefferson county are complaining that the hessian fly is making havoc among their wheat. It is but a few days since they anticipated an abundant wheat harvest. Yesterday an intelligent and close observing farmer informed us that in one field of thirty acres he feared it would not average him a yield of three bushels to the acre.

TALL THROW.—The Mechanic boys were out yesterday evening with their machine, at the cistern corner of Main and Third streets, and made some of the tallest throwing lately witnessed.—With two streams they threw over the top of Bustard's new five story house, and with three threw to the eaves. The Mechanic boys may boast loudly now, and will be entitled to the horns.

L. I. RACES.—The result of the great trotting match that came off on Monday last, at the Union Course, between Sontag and Flora Temple, we find given in the New York Herald, of the 9th inst. Match $2,000, mile heats, best three in five, to wagons, wagon and driver weighing three hundred pounds. First heat Sontag won, making it in 2:31; the second heat in 2:33, and the third in 2:35.—Much money was lost and won on this race. Next Monday a race will come off between Pocahontas and Hero.

A KNOW-NOTHING CERTIFICATE.—A gentleman of our city found an old pocket book yesterday, containing a three cent piece and a certificate, which certifies that on the 17th of February, 1855, "the Second Degree of our Order was conferred upon Mr. ———, by and with the consent of the Council." We omit the name of the person and also of the Secretary. This certificate shall be carefully preserved for the owner, which he can get upon application to this office, and upon payment of this advertisement.

THEATRE.—The attendance at the Theatre last evening was one of the most brilliant of the season, and was a substantial evidence of the high appreciation in which Mr. Murdoch is held as an actor. At the conclusion of the performance, Mr. Murdoch was called out, and in a few handsome remarks tendered his acknowledgements to the audience for their liberal patronage. Mr. Murdoch has ever been a favorite in this city, and during his present engagement has won hosts of warm admirers. He will make his last appearance this evening in the new and much admired tragedy of De Soto, and the beautiful comedy of My Aunt.

RIVER AND WEATHER.

The river was still falling last night, with six feet and a half water in the canal, and four feet seven inches on the falls in the pass.

The weather yesterday was considerably warmer than on Thursday—more seasonable.

PITTSBURG, May 11—P. M.

There are five feet eleven inches water in the channel and falling slowly. The weather is clear and cool.

CINCINNATI, May 11—P. M.

The River is falling slowly. The weather is fine.

PITTSBURG, May 7—M.

There are six feet water in the channel and at a stand. The weather is clear and pleasant.

CINCINNATI, May 11—M.

The river is falling slowly. The weather is clear and pleasant.

The steamer Charleston came down yesterday from Cincinnati, heavily laden with all kinds of manufactured articles for the Memphis market. Why can't the merchants of Louisville offer such inducements to the people of Memphis and other southern cities, as to gain a respectable share of their trade, if not all of it? Will some one be kind enough to enlighten us on this point?

The splendid passenger packet, David White, is off this afternoon at 4 o'clock, for New Orleans, from the Portland wharf. Captain McGill is one of the cleverest officers on the western waters, and Mr. Mitchell in the clerk's office, will be happy to do their utmost for the comfort of their passengers.

We learn, from the Cincinnati Gazette, that the general agency of the boats forming the daily line between this city and Cincinnati, will hereafter be under the management of Captain A. C. Monfort. His office is now being fitted up on the mail line wharf-boat, where he can be found at all hours. This is a position which Captain Frank Carter has held for some time, with profit to the business of the line, and accommodation to the traveling public.

The Crystal Palace, Captain Kountz, will be off this afternoon for St. Louis. She will carry passengers through in quick time, and with as much attention to their comfort as gentlemanly officers can bestow.

Captain Moore has contracted in Cincinnati for building a side-wheel boat, 145 feet long, 28 feet beam, for the Yazoo river trade, to be completed early in August.

We clip the following from the Cincinnati Commercial of yesterday morning:

The river continues to recede slowly, with cool and pleasant weather. There were only eight steamers in port last night. The Ohio No. 2, Empire State, Gulnare, Seventy-Six, Madison, Mediator, C. Beaber, and Allegheny.

Our punctual correspondent "Sam," writes us that there was nineteen feet water and falling, in the Wabash at Terra Haute, on Wednesday evening. The Endeavor had passed Terre Haute, on her way to Lafayette. The Wabash was also falling at Vincennes, on Tuesday, with nine feet in the channel.

MORALS IMPROVING.—We can congratulate the people of Louisville upon the improving morals of the city. There was not a single case before the police court yesterday morning, no house breaking, no stealing, no drinking, no whipping of wives, or breaking of furniture, no violations of any of the various ordinances passed by the city fathers for the well being of the community. If such a state of affairs could only be continued, the judge and the clerk and the lawyers, would lose the chance of a livelihood, and newspaper reporters ransack the city in vain for an exciting item.

The only thing done yesterday morning was the giving of naturalization papers to one applicant.

☞ The punning editor of the Lafayette Journal says of the marriage of Lucy Stone: "We anticipated the result the first time we ever heard Lucy make an anti-slavery speech. It was very evident to us from the course of her remarks that she loved a black veil."

☞ The Oswego Journal states that the steamers bound up Lake Ontario, have been literally packed with passengers for the far West; and that over a thousand persons were carried through by way of that port, last week, for that destination.

ACQUITTED.—Lieut. G. H. Scott, of the United States steamer Michigan, who was court-martialed at Erie, Pa., a few months ago, on the charge of purchasing coal, for the steamer's use, from personal favorites, at a large advance upon the current market rates, has been honorably acquitted, and the removal to other duty of the assistant engineer, who made the charge, recommended.

The Mayoralty Once More!

Two days ago, by the decision of the Hon. Judge Bullock, James S. Speed was declared to be entitled to the office of Mayor, for the term of two years from the time of election in 1854, and John Barbee, who was recognized by the present Council, and acting for a short time as Mayor, was ordered to surrender the books and papers to Speed. Thus Mr. Speed came again into the possession of the office, the duties of which he discharged for a day, more or less, when a supersedeas was sued out—which is a writ to stay proceedings at law.

The following is a copy of the official announcement of the proceedings to Mr. Speed:

STATE OF KENTUCKY—CLERK'S OFFICE OF THE JEFFERSON CIRCUIT COURT.—I do hereby certify that an appeal has been granted by this Court, from a judgment obtained by James S. Speed against John Barbee, which judgment is in substance as follows: "Judgment that James S. Speed is entitled to the office of Mayor of Louisville for two years from the time of his qualification after the election in 1854, and John Barbee is ordered to surrender to said Speed all the books and papers and other things pertaining to said office of Mayor. Said Speed is hereby re-instated in said office, and said John Barbee enjoined from intermeddling with the duties thereof;" which was rendered in the Jefferson Circuit Court, on the 8th day of May, 1855, and that a Supersedeas bond has been executed within thirty days after the appeal was granted.

Therefore, the appellee, James S. Speed, and all others, are commanded to stay proceedings on the judgment.

Witness my hand as Clerk of said county, this 11th day of May, 1855.

HENRY J. LYONS, Clerk.

FEARFUL ACCIDENT—EXPLOSION OF A LOCOMOTIVE—TWO MEN KILLED.—A locomotive attached to the freight train from Indianapolis, exploded on Thursday evening, about six o'clock, near Memphis, sixteen miles beyond Jeffersonville. The engineer, Mr. Griffith Harris, and the fireman, Mr. Thomas, were instantly killed.

Mr. D. Lewis, proprietor of a saw-mill in Jeffersonville, Ind., who was on the train, was very badly injured.

The body of the engineer was blown a distance of about one hundred and fifty yards, and the principal portion of the boiler was also thrown two hundred yards from the scene of the explosion.

The passenger trains from Indianapolis and Cincinnati were detained several hours in consequence of the accident.

Since the above was in type, we have received the New Albany Ledger, of Friday evening, giving fuller particulars:

Explosion of a Locomotive!

TWO MEN KILLED AND ONE WOUNDED!!

About 5 o'clock last evening, the engine of a down freight train on the Jeffersonville Railroad exploded about two miles this side of Henryville, seventeen miles from Jeffersonville. The engineer, Mr. Harrison, and a fireman whose name we did not learn, were killed. The body of Mr. H. was found about 150 yards from the scene of the disaster, and it was supposed that it had been blown entirely over the tops of the trees! The only remains of clothing on him were a portion of the shirt collar, a portion of one boot, and a strip of one of the legs of his pantaloons. The body was as limber as a rag, the bones being apparently mashed to a jelly.

The name of the person who was wounded we could not ascertain. His leg was broken. He was a passenger. These three were the only persons on the train. The cause of the explosion is unknown, and probably will never be ascertained, as the only persons who could give any information on the subject are dead. Portions of the locomotive were found distant a hundred and fifty yards from the scene of the accident, and the track of the road was torn up for some distance.

We gather these particulars from a gentleman who came passenger from Indianapolis in last evening's train. Upon reaching the scene of this terrible explosion, the train was unable to proceed further on account of the obstructions. The passengers, therefore, had to remain there all night, and did not reach Jeffersonville till this morning.

PERJURY—ESCAPE—ACQUITTAL.—Wm. Bradshaw, the principal witness for the defence at each trial of the case of the Commonwealth vs. William Brookover, still pending in the Mason Circuit Court, was arraigned before Esquires Artus and Wood on Monday, on a charge of perjury in giving in his evidence in said case. While another trial was going on and the prisoner in the custody of the Court, he effected his escape and is said to have fled from the State.—Maysville Eagle, 10th inst.

NOTICES.

BY C. C. GREEN.—We call the attention of our readers to the auction sale of C. C. Green, at his auction rooms, No. 80 Third street, at 10 o'clock this morning. He also sells a fine family carriage at Whipp's stable, at 11 o'clk precisely. See advertisement.

☞ CHARLES W. POPE, city weigher, announces through card this morning, that he is ready to serve the public, and may be found at the store of Marshall Halbert, on Main, near Third street, or the insurance office of Moore & Son, in Jacob's Building, Main street.

☞ THE great medicine of the day, is Blackwell's Sarsaparilla and Vermifuge. Its success is, beyond all question, and it is indeed rare that any medicine, even with such intrinsic worth and value, so rapidly grows in public favor. Dr. Robert Vaughan, the sole proprietor of this invaluable compound, by his well directed and energetic purpose, will reap a large reward for himself, while he administers, at the same time, to the sick and lame, blind and halt.

☞ MESSRS. HUTCHINGS & Co., Bankers, on Main, near Fifth street, are checking on England, Ireland, and Scotland, in sums to suit purchasers, from £1 up. Those wishing to buy, would do well to give them a call.

☞ Intrinsic merit, more than windy advertising, is the cause of the widespread popularity of Dr. Geoghegan's Hydropiper. From the little germ in an interior town of Kentucky, it has worked its way unheralded from town to town, and State to State, until it is known and appreciated throughout the length and breadth of our country. From Canada to Mexico, from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean, so well and favorably known that it seems almost superfluous for us to say that it is a specific for scrofula and all impurities of the blood; also for dyspepsia and all derangements of the stomach and liver. Principal office, No. 74 Fourth street, in this city.

GENERAL BUTLER AND THE KNOW-NOTHINGS.—Inasmuch as the Know-Nothing press still continue to circulate the miserable calumny that General Butler, of Kentucky, is favorably disposed to their principles, notwithstanding our contradiction, we give an extract from the address which he made to the committee that waited upon him with the intelligence of his Congressional nomination. Said General Butler:

"Rumor—never very remarkable for truth—has insinuated that I am in some way connected with or have some little proclivity for this new order, and I find that the same insinuations are made with equal injustice against thousands of the truest Democrats in the land. The purpose is plain, but the trick has become too transparent to have any effect. It is not my custom to war with shadows; let me then say in unmistakeable terms that those rumors are false and unfounded, so far as I am concerned."

WATER-WORKS—THE ABSOLUTE NECESSITY TO MANUFACTURES.—There has been so much said in favor of the establishment of water-works in this city, that we hardly think it possible to say anything new on the subject: but that which is good can hardly be said too often in a good cause.

The question of building, on the part of the city, has been decided by the people; they have emphatically declared that the city shall not make any such undertaking. But we understand that declaration differently from some of our friends.—They believe the vote to have been a declarrtion, on the part of the people, that the city shall not only not build water-works, but shall not hold stock in any such an improvement. We do not so understand it—and we base our idea of the people's desire upon information given by several different persons.

They voted against the ordinance because they were unwilling the city government should build such a work; they believed the cost would be at least fifty per cent more than if built by a private company—and they were aware that the city could at any time after they were finished buy the works at an advance on the first cost of not more than ten per cent. Moreover, they believed that under the supervision of city officers, the works would require much longer time for their construction, and the style of the works would be less substantial, than would be the case if a private company should complete the job.

These are very sensible objections, and we believe them to be the main, if not the only reasons, for the defeat of the ordinance.

We do not conceive it possible that in this age of the world, any people laying claim to so much intelligence as the citizens of Louisville, can deliberately determine not to have water-works, or not to sustain them when once constructed. We know that a large majority of our citizens are opposed to the use of river water for drinking and culinary purposes, no matter how much it may be filtered—and we confess that we are of that number but then we do not imagine that we shall be compelled to forego the luxury, on a hot summer's day, of a good cool drink, fresh from the bottom of the well. At the same time we are well aware that such an improvement is absolutely necessary to the complete success of our manufactures—and our city can never prosper as she should, unless her people engage largely in all kinds of manufacture.

A full and constant supply of water is as necessary to the successful working of a foundry or machine shop as the fuel used; well-water contains too much lime in solution, which cakes on the boilers, and very materially delays operations.

But the success of our manufactures is not the only reason in favor of the city subscribing.—Cleanliness is a virtue—without plenty of water neither our streets nor houses can be as free from dirt as they should be. Let us keep our homes and streets, and alleys, and side walks, and garden walks, and persons clean and neat, and we shall stand in less need of the doctor's prescriptions.

But we did not intend to argue the question at any length—merely to say that we cannot find in the last vote of the people, any reason why the proposition to subscribe by the city to the stock of a private company should not be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection. When the question comes before them, we trust they will remember that water-works are absolutely essential to the success of manufactures—and a prosperous condition among the manufacturing and mechanical classes of community will do more to increase the wealth and importance of the city than is in the power of pen to calculate.

☞ After a severe drouth in Alabama, Georgia, and South Carolina, these States were, last week, visited by copious showers of rain, which, being general, were of incalculable benefit.

☞ An exchange, speaking of a correspondent, says:

"We are always glad to hear from you, fair Sissie. Heaven has bestowed on you the gift of fire."

In the general market a moderate business only is being transacted, and in prices we have no change to note from yesterday.

☞ WORMS EVEN IN ADULTS. The administration of B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge has always been characterized with success, always producing in the feelings a marked change for the better. Any one who tries it can safely confide in it, and the most delicate infant cannot be injured by its use. Adults, too, are frequently subject to worms in the rectum and small intestines which always impair the health.

ATHENS, N. Y., June 2d, 1853.

MESSRS. B. A. FAHNESTOCK & Co—I have used two bottles of B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge, which I purchased from your agent. It had the desired effect in bringing away a large number of worms from my wife. I purchased another vial and gave it to my child; it had the same effect, bringing away great numbers of worms. I therefore recommend it to the public as a sure remedy for worms.

EDWARD COCKE, Clerk.

The Voice of the Grass.

This charming little poem we have lately seen in the English papers without a signature, and published as belonging to England. It was written by Mrs. Sarah Roberts, of Portsmouth, N. H., and was originally printed in the Portsmouth Journal. Mary Howitt, in her "Pictorial Calendar of the Seasons," quotes it with high praise. It is worthy of it:

Here I come creeping, creeping everywhere;
By the dusty road-side,
On the sunny hill-side,
Close by the noisy brook,
In every shady nook,
I come creeping, creeping everywhere.

Here I come creeping, creeping everywhere;
All round the open door,
Where sit the aged poor,
Here with the children play,
In the bright and merry May,
I come creeping, creeping everywhere.

Here I come creeping, creeping everywhere;
You cannot see me coming,
Nor hear my low sweet humming;
For in the starry night,
And the glad morning light,
I come quietly creeping everywhere.

Here I come creeping, creeping everywhere;
More welcome than the flowers.
In summer's pleasant hours;
The gentle cow is glad,
And the merry bird not sad
To see me creeping, creeping everywhere.

Here I come creeping everywhere:
When you're numbered with the dead
In your still and narrow bed,
In the happy spring I'll come,
And deck your silent home,
Creeping, silently creeping everywhere.

Here I come creeping, creeping everywhere:
My humble soug of praise,
Most gratefully I raise
To Him at whose command
I beautify the land,
Creeping, silently creeping everywhere.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.—A fair female was yesterday up for examination before Recorder Bright, on a charge of having feloniously taken from an iron chest, in the Piney Wood's House, at the corner of Circus and Julia streets, two mortgage notes of $850 each, and $1,000 in cash belonging to the estate of the late Jean Beltran. The complaint was made by Mateo Beltran, the brother of the deceased, who claimed the money and notes as administrator of the succession of her deceased husband. It was, however, proved that the fair accused had lived with Jean Beltran as his wife for a number of years; that he had introduced her generally among his neighbors as his wife, and had always appeared to be extremely kind to her. One of the aldermen of Jefferson City, who visited him a few days before his death, found him in bed and the woman weeping by his side. Beltran said to the Alderman, "You have known me a number of year's and now I intend to tell you a secret; this woman with whom I have been living for so long a time is not legally my wife; I have never been married to her, and that's why she is crying, but I intend to send for a Catholic priest so that we may get married, in such a manner as to render our marriage valid under the laws of Spain: to which country I intend to take her as soon as I get well."

He, however, got worse, and a priest was sent for to perform the marriage ceremony; but the ceremony could not be performed, because, at the time, Beltran was unable to speak. Subsequently another priest was sent for, and he went through some ceremony, but none of the witnesses were able to say whether it was a marriage ceremony or not. Eventually, Beltran died, and his brother Mateo, the prosecutor in the case, was present when he was laid out. Before the burial of the corpse, this brother himself, as several witnesses averred, opened the iron chest in which Jean Beltran kept his more valuable effects, and, with his own hands, gave the two notes and the $1,000 to his brother's wife or mistress—the same notes and money which he subsequently charged her with having stolen. On this state of facts the Recorder promptly dismissed the case, and afterwards Mateo Beltran was arrested on a charge of perjury, his statement being inconsistent, and in entire variance with the facts as related by a number of respectable witnesses. Indeed it was proved that Mateo, at the time he gave the notes and money to the woman, apologized for not giving her a more liberal share of his brother's effects.

BEAUTIFUL PARABLE.—A Jew entered a Parsee temple, and lavished the sacred fire: "What," said he to the priest, "ye worship the fire?"

"Not the fire," answered the priest; "it is to us the emblem of the sun, and of his genial heat."

"Do you then worship the sun as your God?" asked the Jew. "Know ye not, this luminary also is but a work of that Almighty Creator?"

"We know it," replied the priest, "but the uncultivated man requires a sensible sign, in order to form a conception of the Most High. And is not the sun, the incomprehensible source of light, an image of that invisible Being, who blesses and preserves all things?"

The Israelite thereupon rejoined—"Do your people then distinguish the type from the original? They call the sun their God, and descending even from this to a baser object, they kneel before an earthly flame. Ye amuse the outward and blind the inward eye, and while ye hold to them the earthly, ye withdraw from them the heavenly light. 'Thou shalt not make unto thee any image or any likeness.'"

"How then do you designate the Supreme Being?" asked the Parsee.

"We call him Jehovah Adonia, that is, the Lord who is, who was, and who will be," answered the Jew.

"Your appellation is grand and sublime," said the Parsee, "but it is awful, too."

A Christian then drew nigh, and said—"We call him FATHER."

The Pagan and the Jew looked at each other and said: "Here is at once an image and a reality: it is a word of the heart," said they.

Therefore they raised their eyes to heaven, and said with reverence and love—"OUR FATHER!" And they took each other by the hand, and all three called one another brothers.

☞ The perfume of flowers may be gathered, according to the Scientific American, in a very simple manner, and without apparatus. Gather the flowers with as little stalk as possible, and place them in a jar, three parts full of olive or almond oil. After being in the oil twenty-four hours, put them into a coarse cloth, and squeeze the oil from them. This process, with fresh flowers, is to be repeated according to the strength of the perfume desired. The oil being thus thoroughly perfumed with the volatile principle of the flowers, is to be mixed with an equal quantity of pure rectified spirit, and shaken every day for a fortnight, when it may be poured off, ready for use. As the seasons for sweet-scented blossoms is just approaching, this method may be practically tested, and without any great trouble or expense. It would add additional interest to the cultivation of flowers.

"Very well, sir, mistress can put it down as rent."

"For mice-tiny, marm."

R. J. Atkinson,

HORSE DOCTOR AND OPERATING VETERINARY SURGEON, informs the stable keepers and citizens of Louisville and the adjoining counties, that he is still in the city, and, in consequence of the severe winter, a great many horses are sick and out of order. Those wishing his services will do well to give him a call. He is prepared to Sick and Dock Horses, and Castrate Colts and Mules, on the most improved plan, either in city or country. He also prepares, and has for sale, Medicine which is a certain cure for horses that are subject to the cholic or botts, which every stable keeper, stage proprietor, and farmer should have on hand. Private Medical Treatise

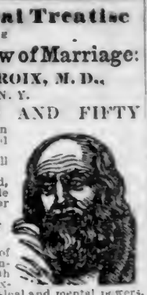
ON THE

Physiological view of Marriage:

BY M. D. LA CROIX, M. D.,

ALBANY, N. Y.

TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY pages, and 130 fine plain and colored lithographs and plates. Price only 25 cents.



☞ Sent free of postage to all parts of the United States.

Cheapest book ever published, and containing nearly double the quantity of reading matter in that of the Fifty-Cent or Dollar Publications.

It treats on the Physiology of Marriage, and the secret infirmities and disorders of youth and maturity, resulting from excesses, which destroy the social and mental powers, and diseases arising from indiscretion, with plain and simple rules by which all persons can cure themselves without mercury, with the author's observations on marriage. Its duties and disqualifications, and their remedies; with colored lithographs, illustrating the anatomy and physiology, and diseases of the reproductive organs of both sexes, their structures, uses, and functions. It contains many important hints to those contemplating matrimony, which will overcome objections against marriage; none, however, should take this important step without first consulting its pages. It treats of all diseases of females, whether married or single. Hints to those who desire no more children. Strangers who require medical aid, before consulting any doctor, ought to know whether their cases are properly understood by those they employ, and thus guard against the imposition of quackery, so prevalent in populous cities. Hence the advantage of a regular knowledge of one's self, such as is given in this work.

If medical authorities of the best of talents and enlightenment be sought from books, let common sense discriminate between truthful simplicity and outrageous speciousness and bombast. Dr. La Croix is a legally qualified physician, and for the last twenty years has been daily consulted upon the different diseases upon which his book treats, personally as well as by letter. Any person sending 25 cents in a letter, post-paid, will receive a copy by mail, free of postage, or five copies for $1. Adress Dr. M. D. LA CROIX, No. 31 Maiden Lane, (P. O. Box 578) Albany, N. Y.

☞ Medicine sent to any part of the Union, according to directions, safely packed and carefully secured from all observation.

☞ Office open daily from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M., and on Sunday from 2 until 5 P. M.
